Welcome to the new Conference year!

I hope you had a great summer, and are ready for all of the opportunities the North Jersey Water Conference is preparing. Our organization is successful only because of the dedication and hard work of our members.

Special thanks to Andy Clauhs for the work he did as our first two-year president, and to the Executive Board of the Conference for making 2008-2009 a great year for us all. We've enjoyed and benefitted from the dinner meetings, special events, and educational opportunities.

Conference members can also expect 2009-2010 to provide great opportunities for fellowship, education and business. The Executive Board is currently discussing new goals and ways of doing business in an effort to provide more and better services to our members.

Successful organizations should always be looking for ways to improve and grow. To that end, please allow me to ask a few favors of you:

- Tell me your ideas. Do you have any thoughts about new goals the conference should accomplish? Do you have any ideas about how we can improve on the services we currently provide? Please let me know.
- Participate. The Conference is stronger when you come to the meetings, lend a hand, or volunteer for a committee.
- Recruit new members. The Conference is a great and worthwhile organization, and we all benefit from our membership. Why shouldn't others? Please bring friends to our meetings and introduce them to others.

Working together, we can grow the North Jersey Water Conference, learn more, provide more opportunities, and have a great time doing it. Your participation is the key.

On a personal level, I want to thank you for your membership in the Conference. I appreciate the opportunity to serve, and look forward to seeing you in the new year.

Sincerely

Rick Howlett
